YEAI STUDENT SUCCESS STORIES

Riley Benner, CEO, Phoenix Haberdashery, Rochester, NY

Riley Benner is a graduate of the Young Entrepreneurs Academy (YEAI) class of 2014 at the University of Rochester in Rochester, New York. As part of the YEAI class, Riley turned his reversible necktie idea into a high-end men's accessory business—Phoenix Haberdashery. His revolutionary reversible neck-ties offer two ties for the price of one and allow the wearer a "quick-change" in case of a spill or stain during the day. Phoenix Haberdashery was crowned the 2014 YEAI Saunders Scholars National Competition winner in Washington, D.C., naming Riley as America's Top Young Entrepreneur! Rachel Zietz, CEO, Gladiator Lacrosse, Boca Raton, FL

Gladiator Lacrosse was founded in 2013 by then 13 year old seventh grade entrepreneur and lacrosse player, Rachel Zietz. Like every player wishing to improve his or her game, Rachel's coaches advised her to play "wall ball" and practice her shot as much as possible. However, the quality of the products she purchased would not hold up to the weather outdoors and were expensive. Participating in the YEAI Greater Boca Raton Chamber of Commerce program, Rachel started a business that produces high-quality lacrosse equipment at an affordable price and Gladiator Lacrosse was born. Tanner and Spencer Harrison, Co-CEOs, Campfire Industries, South Jordan, Utah

Tanner and Spencer Harrison, brothers and co-CEOs, graduated from the South Jordan YEAI class in 2013. Their business idea, the Wolf'Em Stick, is a pioneering product of their company, Campfire Industries. The Wolf'Em Stick is a unique tool that creates tasty dough treats over a campfire. The success of the Wolf'Em Stick earned the Harrison brothers 2nd place in the 2013 YEAI Saunders Scholars Competition, including a trip to America's Small Business Summit in Washington, D.C. Tanner and Spencer introduced their product at the South Jordan Country Fest in 2013, and sold 200 units. They were contacted by county mayor, Ed McAdams, who showcased Campfire Industries at the Lake County Fair, where they sold 600 units! www.wolfem.com

Brandon Boynton, CEO, MostBeaously Studios LLC, Madison, Indiana

A 2014 graduate of YEAI Madison County, an incoming senior at Pendleton Heights High School in Indiana, and a member of the Madison County Chamber of Commerce Board. 17-year-old Brandon Boynton was a finalist at the YEAI National Saunders Competition last year. A self-taught iOS app developer prior to YEAI, he officially launched his business, MostBeaously Studios LLC, and developed his featured app, The BullyBox, through the YEAI program. Brandon has received numerous accolades in his short career, including a full scholarship to Apple's 2014 World Wide Developers Conference. He was also the winner of the US Congress 5th District STEM Competition and garnered considerable international media recognition. He was recently the youngest person ever nominated for a prestigious TechPoint "Rising Star" Mira Award. Brandon is the owner of The BullyBox, as well as an assortment of other apps that embody his company's slogan "Apps that make a difference."
